

The SPARX project was carried out under the direction of:

Martine Hébert, Ph.D.
Canada Research Chair on Interpersonal Traumas and Resilience
Department of Sexology
Université du Québec à Montréal

In partnership with

TEL-JEUNES

Centre intégré
universitaire de santé
et de services sociaux
du Centre-Sud-
de-l'Île-de-Montréal
Québec

With funding from

Agence de la santé
publique du Canada

Public Health
Agency of Canada

We sincerely thank all those who participated in the development, revision and validation of the contents of the SPARX website.

Content development

- Léa Pépin, Research professional, UQAM
- Stéphanie Couture, PhD candidate in sexology, UQAM
- Roxanne Guyon, PhD candidate in sexology, UQAM

Content development support

- Marily Julien, Research professional, UQAM
- Catherine Moreau, Research professional, UQAM
- Andréanne Fortin, PhD candidate in psychology, UQAM

Content revision

- Pierre H. Tremblay, Partner, Direction régionale de santé publique (DRSP) de Montréal
- Myriam Day Asselin, Head of expertise and innovation, Tel-jeunes
- Guillaume Perrier, Coordinator, AlterHéros
- Martin Blais, Co-researcher, Department of Sexology, UQAM
- Alison Paradis, Co-researcher, Department of Psychology, UQAM

Website creation

- Kristelle Laflamme and her team, Ubéo Solutions web

Translation

- Aurélie Ptito, Translator, Linguistic Services

The aim of the SPARX program is to promote positive romantic and intimate relationships among teenagers.

- To achieve this goal,
the program has several components:
- in-class workshops for grade 9 and 10 students
 - + youth ambassador committees in participating schools
 - + video clips for parents and caregivers + a website
 - + an online training for school staff.

An initiative of the SPARX team and its partners

TEL-JEUNÈS

UQÀM | Université du Québec à Montréal

Centre intégré
universitaire de santé
et de services sociaux
du Centre-Sud-
de-l'Île-de-Montréal

Financial contribution from

Public Health Agency of Canada Agence de la santé
publique du Canada

Suggested citation: Hébert, M. and the SPARX project team (2023).
SPARX Program: For positive and intimate partnerships – Website.
Canada Research Chair on Interpersonal Traumas and Resilience, Université du Québec à Montréal. www.etincelles.uqam.ca/en/